

Staff Clinician
HIV/Infectious Disease Clinic
National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases
National Institutes of Health
Department of Health and Human Services
AD-602

The National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), Division of Intramural Research (DIR), Laboratory of Immunoregulation (LIR), Clinical Research Section (CRS), is seeking an outstanding staff clinician to participate in clinical research in the epidemiology, pathogenesis, and treatment of infectious diseases.

DIR's mission is to design, initiate, and conduct important basic science and clinical investigations in cutting-edge areas of infectious diseases and allergy/immunology, particularly those of major public health importance. DIR shares responsibility with the Critical Care Medicine Department (CCMD) of the NIH Clinical Center for staffing and managing the HIV/infectious disease outpatient research clinic. This staff clinician position resides exclusively in the HIV/infectious disease program in the HIV Clinic, although it may also include inpatient responsibilities for care of HIV-infected and other patients.

Requirements:

The incumbent must be board-eligible or -certified in internal medicine. Training in infectious diseases is desirable but not required. The incumbent must comply with all policies dictated by NIAID and CCMD leadership, the hospital, and appropriate regulatory bodies including the ACGME, FDA, and IRBs.

Interested candidates may contact Dr. Richard Davey (rdavey@niaid.nih.gov) for additional information about the position. To apply, candidates must submit a curriculum vitae, a bibliography, three letters of reference, a detailed statement of clinical research interests, and reprints of up to three selected publications to National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, Division of Intramural Research, c/o LIR Office of the Chief, Attn: Dr. Marybeth Daucher (mdaucher@niaid.nih.gov), 10 Center Drive, Room 6A19, Bethesda, MD 20892-1884 by March 10, 2010.
